I know everyone is super excited to get their hands on a baby kitten but I do not have any available at this time. If you contact me I can put you on like a waiting list to be contacted if/when we have kittens but I cannot guarantee color or gender when we do have our kittens. Thank you.

Its that time of year again and I am here to offer help to anyone that may need it. Taking care of a litter of kittens is a lot harder than most people realize. They are cute yes but they are also messy, time consuming, and expensive. My family has been helping out strays for as long as I can remember and now for the past 6 years or so I have been doing it mostly by myself with the help of my mom. So if you find yourself with a pregnant cat or a momma with babies or even an orphaned kitten that you can't keep or care for please call, text, or email me and I will help you out. I am willing to travel to get to you or your welcome to come here and I am always willing to stay in contact with you so you can check in on momma and/or babies if you'd like. I have tons of pictures of my past fosters that I can share an of course I can also share pictures of where the kittens would be staying.

All of our kittens have always been healthy and only go to their new homes when they are deemed healthy and old enough. Momma are always placed into loving homes when healthy as well. I cannot stress enough how loved these little guys are while they are here and I always screen homes carefully to make sure they only go to the best. Either me or my mom are always home to give these little ones all the attention they need and we have two vets within our family that can help in case of emergency should our regular vet not be available. These kittens are always well looked out for an very much loved while being here.

Also we do have the means to care for orphaned kittens. I have bottle fed lots of little guys before and we have everything here to care for them. So whether you find one kitten or a whole litter, we are willing to take them an keep them warm an fed while they grow. Like I said someone is always home to feed them and make sure they are doing great.

 I am always here to answer any questions you may have so if you have any questions or need some help in a situation please don't hesitate to call, text, or email me. I do my best to answer as soon as possible though I do not have a cell phone so it may take a few hours to respond.	 Or Email Me.
