Are you in need of affordable and reliable solutions to support your business's needs? Do you have a project that requires Microsoft Excel expertise?

I am an experienced professional proficient at drafting and providing Microsoft Excel applications that meet the needs of my consumers. Past projects have focused on automated reporting, data mining, code refining, and macro writing. I specialize in custom report creation/automation, data manipulation, and macro generation/VBA programming.

I offer cost effective pricing, charge everything by the project so you know your cost up front, and will gladly provide a quote in advance. If my services can be of benefit to you or your business, please email me a scope of work for evaluation.

I have a lengthy list of satisfied and repeat customers that have been very pleased with the quality of my work.
