I am selling my 1999 Chevy Monte Carlo. It has a great new engine, it was put in at 185,000 miles, unfortunately I don't have documents of that but you can tell it is new when looking at the engine block. It has a 3.1 I v6. Automatic transmission that shifts as if it was brand new. It gets 20 mph city and 25 highway. Power everything, brand new tires, brand new battery. Also buyer gets a full tank and a good clean. But There are only two things wrong with this vehicle, the body on the passengers side of the car is jacked up. Somebody had sideswiped the previous owner before my purchase. It doesn't affect the alignment or the wear on the tire, it just doesn't look that pretty. Also about three days ago I was driving it and re already failed fuel pump went out, and I've been looking to sell anyways, so it goes as is. Won't drive without that part, $65 part. So you would need to tow it. Overall if you know how to change the fuel pump, and don't care about the body damage its a great car. Performance wise it is great, I loved this car, just need a truck for my work situation, can't afford insurance on 2 vehicles. Call (if I don't answer feel free to leave a voicemail) or text me at

I will answer any questions, thanks for looking. Cash only $1500 Or best
