My daughters cat had been staying with friends in Wasilla. He is an indoor cat. Has only been outdoors in the summer, on a leash. He somehow got out of her house the afternoon/evening of 1/22/13. He is still seen from time to time around their house but won't let anyone catch him for some reason.

His name is Juno. He is neutered, long black hair, big yellow eyes. He is a HUGE lovebug to anyone who will give him loving attention, specially children. He belongs to my 8yr old daughter and she is missing him terribly. She still hasn't given up that her baby will make his way home. He has been her baby since she was 1 1/2 yrs old and she loves him SO very much. He literally is her baby...she brushes him, feeds him, and spoils him rotten with treats and toys. He does come when called by name so if you see him, it shouldn't be an issue catching him if it's him. He unfortunately doesn't have his harness w/ tags on due to my friends kids taking it off earlier in the day he went missing. He IS however microchipped, though I've been unable to register his/our info but I do have the papers w/ the number to ID him with if he were to be scanned.

If you see him or are able to catch him or know someone who has seen/caught him I can be reached at 907-884-366. Text is best. Thank!
