I have a one year old male blue heeler mix to a good home. He is neutered and up to date on his shots. I do not have enough room or time for him and will soon have to relocate to an apartment which just will not work for him. He needs room to run. He is an active breed and it shows he is full of energy and needs a home with land or at least a fenced yard. He is not good with children. He is a smart boy and could proly be a working dog with the right training both of his parents were working dogs. Text for more pictures and.
