I am leaving for Seattle on May 6th. I will be traveling through Shreveport, Oklahoma City, Albuquerque, Vegas, San Francisco, and all points north. I will be camping along the way. I will not be on any kind of time schedule. I drive a 2 door hatchback. I am looking for someone that would like to accompany me on all or part of this adventure. Sharing the cost of gas(30mpg) and any camping/shelter expenses would be appreciated. I can accommodate 1 person with up to 3 small to medium bags. I love dogs but I don't think I'd have the room for 1. I'm posting early because the last time I journeyed across America my travel mates were not good company so I'm wanting to meet someone before hand.

I'm an easy going free spirited old soul.

If interested please respond with a pic and a little about you. Peace...
