I have an 2006 ex police interceptor with 178k miles still going strong, has a chipped ecu for more power, 4.6 v8, automatic transmission, voxx racing wheels 17x8, body it in fairly good condition expect for the front bumper, paint is chipping in some spots, brand new transmission put in last year by ford, underneath of the car is in great shape, needs new corner light (cracked but still works). Back doors do not open from the inside because it's a cop car (just put lock pins back in and they'll open) and back windows only roll down from the drivers door (same reason), interior is in good shape.
