 Refreshingly new. Surprisingly affordable.

The Affinity Living lifestyle is all about mingling! Meeting new people and making new friends. In fact, socializing is a big part of what keeps life interesting and vibrant in our communities--and why people love it here. Socialize as much or as little as you like.

Affinity at Boise offers a brand new kind of lifestyle that was specifically designed for people 55 and over. What makes us different? For starters, it's amazingly affordable, with no need to buy-in or sign a lengthy contract--you can simply rent. Add to that about 30,000 square feet of extra living space and a fun social vibe living around people your age -- and it makes for a perfect place to settle in.

One affordable rent covers all--including utilities, Wi-Fi and cable television.
 Whether you're working full time and saving for retirement, or have already retired, living at Affinity makes a lot of financial sense.
