

Beginning to get frantic (Miles City)

Location Montana

I relocated here only just a couple of weeks ago along with my partner basically to verify that he has always been a cheating scumbag and we went separate ways. I figure that might be precisely what I deserve for falling for a dude I came across on NSAFinder... I've no place to live besides high-priced hotel rooms which unfortunately I really can't pay for. I would like a place until eventually I can easily find a job. I'm totally willing and eager to do housekeeping or maybe nanny rather than paying rent money for right now. I am able to submit referrals. Thanks much for spending time to read through.
