My father passed away unexpectedly while my mother was in a nursing home recovering from knee surgery. The house got foreclosed on, and she has been stuck in there ever since. I'm finally living in a home where she can come and live, the problem is getting her down here. I'm looking for someone to drive her from Maine to Kansas City, KS. She does have about 25 boxes of varying sizes that she needs to move with her, no furniture. I have a very, very, very strict budget of $1,500. Please send an email with some info about yourself, any experience you have with driving, etc... I need someone trust worthy!

I would like to get her out here in May, but the dates are.
