13 Coins Restaurant - Seatac Seattle ★★★★★

Latest review: "Used to play here long ago. Similar review to the seattle operation, but much more open to creating a scene and fostering bringing in musicians to join the band. Loved..."

13 Coins Restaurant - Seattle Seattle ★★★★★

Latest review: "Not high profile but was once a good venue to play music at. Pay was adequate, food was good, allowed to play what we wanted with attention to volume boundaries"

1st Ave Boardriders Seattle

2 Bit Saloon Seattle ★★★★★

Genres: Metal

Latest review: "Fun venue, great staff. Small capacity, maybe 150 tops. Punk/Metal vibe, no frills, marginal monitors, acceptable FOH sound. Free beer for bands, all door money to bands. No space for..."

20/20 Cycles Seattle

418 Public House Seattle ★★☆☆☆☆

Genres: Jazz, Blues, Rock

Latest review: "Pay is on the low side honestly, but ok room for smaller groups to have a weeknights show. Food leaves something to be desired, but I liked the staff."

Venuology was created by the American Federation of Musicians to help musicians share information about music venues -- alerting them to clubs that don't treat musicians well, and also those that do. With this website, we hope musicians will have an easier time deciding where to perform -- and as a result, that venues will feel more pressure to improve pay, sound quality or other problems.
