Sadly we have to rehome our 140 lb, 4 year old Johnson American bulldog. We are moving out of state and with him not being able to fly because of being a flat faced breed we have run out of options to make it work to keep him.

He is 4 years old, his bday is March 22nd and he is a inside dog. He is current on all his shots and is micro chipped. He is a Johnson American bulldog, and is fixed.

He is a good boy and has grown up with kids. I would rather he be with a family with a little bigger kids just because he dosent like people up in his face. He has never bit anyone, I've ran a daycare the whole time having him, I'm just nervous of how he will react going to a new home. He has been with us since he was a puppy.

This saddens me I even have to post this. Again he does have to be a only dog, please don't message me if you have other dogs. We're going to be very particular! I'm not going to set him up for failure and be is this position a couple months down the road.

If your interested in giving him a forever home please message me, only if your serious! There would be a rehoming fee
