The Highly sought after and Prestigious JBL L-220 Speaker Systems. One owner newly re-foamed and new potentiometers. The classic minor blemish on the very bottoms a well known issue for most JBL L-220's due to weight and design. Otherwise, in fine condition. These came with LE14H woofers of which I was informed by Lansing Heritage effectively doubles the power handling capacity. JBL speaker quality and reputation speak for themselves. Investing in these fine speakers would be money well spent...JBL Speakers are money in the bank. I've seen the 076 Tweeters selling for as much as $1,200.00 per pair on eBay. You can see the *bottoms and the top corners in the photos I'd say pretty clearly and those are the most noticeable cosmetic flaws for lack of a better term you'll find on them or otherwise noted. There is one tiny flaw in the top of one of the speakers (see attachments) AudioGon has the JBL L-220's Blue Book Value at $2,000.00. There is little wiggle room in this price,...?A couple of Quotes from other JBL L-220 owners: ?I have listened to quite a few speakers over the last 6 or 8 years, my L-220's are some of the best sounding of all. Plenty of adjustment between the L-pads and Eq to dial them in, and they have a very nice style to them. No complaints here with them at all." RS Steve - unquote.? ?Quote #2 - ?I have also noticed that the two similar models (L220 and L222) has been appreciating like mad for the past five years or so. I saw one pair on eBay go for over $4,000, IIRC. I have no idea why that's been happening; for example, they seem to have far outstripped the L150 and L250/250Ti, yet among audiophiles they seem to be loved less; it's strange.? Shipping Cost Estimates will require at minimum your Zip Code. They will vary of course depending on your location. PLEASE NOTE:IF YOU HAVE A PREFERRED OR LESS EXPENSIVE WAY TO ACHIEVE SHIPMENT/DELIVERY IF REQUIRED? I'M TOTALLY OPEN TO YOUR SUGGESTIONS *The Scott Type 299 Stereo Amplified was sold. ? I believe these are a fine example of the JBL L-220's of that.
