I have a well loved 1999 Subaru Legacy Outback Limited Edition for sell. The odometer reads currently around 116,000 miles. This all wheel drive wagon has leather interior, cruise control, heat and AC, as well as seat warmers in the front. There is a tape deck and cd player along with a functioning radio. The car drives automatic and in the Subaru way-a beauty in all weather conditions. There is some rust underneath due to the snow. New all weather wheels were put on last summer. It's been kept up to date with oil changes and maintenance checks. The exterior color is a Forest Green with a few scruffs but no major damages. I've been told recently by a mechanic there is some oil leaking under the hood and some other repairs that will need to be made. So this car would be better suited for someone willing to put some elbow work into it. But the miles are low for a Subaru-and once fixed up-I'm positive will serve someone well.

I'm looking to sell this car as soon as possible!!! Asking price is $3,000. It's only been between two owners (myself included) with no major accidents. Current plates are California, so it needs to go through MA inspection. You're more then welcome to come see it for yourself and drive it as well-just email to communicate.
