I need a GED tutor. Someone who has taken the test taught the test or has general knowledge of math science social studies and writing. I've passed the LA part. Needs to have proof of there knowledge. Whether it be a certificate of obtaining the GED or a degree. I don't have much in 23 years old live with my fiancÃ©e and I don't have a job. But I'm serious and dedicated i can maybe look into voc rehab possibly paying for it or i could pay after I've taken and passed each exam. Pre test and the actual test pay individually. Based on what I score. I can maybe afford 50 bucks for 2 times a week 8 times a month. Just for a couple hours a day this really needs to be for someone who believes in everyone should have a great education and what I get for my services I get. I would go to the classes but I had to sell my vehicle due to lack of money in just trying to better myself is all so I am going to sign up in June for the online classes cause that's the next sign up date. But before then I wanna see what I can get done first so it would only be from now till JJuneAad if I can get just one more subject done before then that wood be great!! I have the GED book the up to date one. So please if anyone out there can cone to me and help me that would be greatly..
