Designed for use with 10/100/1000 Base-T Gigabit Ethernet networks, the indoor Cat6 protectors feature RJ45 jacks and easily connect in-line with existing data cables. Both of the ELP-CAT6 series protectors are compatible with 802.3af/at Power-over-Ethernet (PoE) devices and support PoE mode A and B for power. The ELP-CAT6 model also features a small Ethernet jumper cable so no additional data lines are needed when used with existing data lines.

The ELPD-CAT6 model is designed for DIN applications. A mounting clip located on the rear of the unit allows it to be mounted to standard DIN 3 rails. This model also includes an Ethernet jumper cable. For multiple DIN protector installations, 3, 5 and 10 position busbars are available to combine all the protector grounds together.
