

Please take over my yard (Columbia Village, Boise)

Here's the deal - turns out I hate doing yard work (I guess I burned out after doing other people's yards for years while in school) so I'm looking to hire someone to do all my yard work this summer. This includes mowing every 1-2 weeks (I don't water aggressively so my lawn grows a little slower than some others), plus weed trimming, repairing gopher mounds (I think I might have finally killed the bastard), and other odds and ends until the place doesn't look like crap any more. I'm looking for a self-starter with attention to detail so I don't have to come out to the yard to point at every single weed that needs to go. I'm looking for somebody who will treat my yard like their own and will just generally try to make the place look better.

I'm only expecting this to be 1-3 hours of work per week (maybe a bit more the first time to get caught up), probably skipping weeks here and there when the lawn is growing slowly. I'm flexible with regards to timing. Please reply to this post with what times of the week/day would typically work best for you, as well as how much you'd need to get paid, and what equipment you have that you'd be able to bring. I have a few things, but my mower and trimmer are electric and not self-propelled, so can be a little less fun to use than a gas tools. It's probably going to work out better for you if you live in or close to Columbia Village so you're not wasting a lot of time driving out.
