We shake Business Needs => We identify Possibilities => We propel Opportunities

Centralizing on Research - Analytics - Strategy - Planning Advising = Focusing on Accelerating Brand Potential

Polina provides Market Research & Brand Consulting. This encompasses market research, forecasting, budgeting, personnel management, lifecycle management, professional development, product branding, start-up strategy development, and administrative processes.

I support the creation and execution of syndicated and custom market research reports for your business by

- 1. Conducting telephone and online interviews with leading technology suppliers, users and distribution channels
- 2.Developing project infrastructure such as survey instruments, data collection instruments, market forecast models, value chains, etc.
- 3. Creating market forecasts, vendor profiles and analysis reports for the IoT industry
- 4.Identifying critical themes and implications in complex datasets and defining creative strategy alternatives and actionable recommendations
- •Creating thoughtful and thought-provoking public content such as through blogs and webcasts
- •Communicating and presenting your brand presentations at industry events, corporate meetings, and other public forums through a number of traditional and new media channels
- •Developing and maintaining your brand and the brands of your practice through consistent high-value added contribution in public channels and under contract with clients
- •Providing support for related marketing, business development and sales activities
