Sweet Shiba Inu and Terrific Tabby
(small adoption fee to make sure you're not a research lab looking for free test subjects)

Sadly the untidy household I'm living in has deteriorated into full-blown hoarding. I'm not able to move out and take them with me. Because I can't reliably keep them safe while the household works to improve living conditions, I am seeking new homes for my two pets ASAP. They don't have to be re-homed together; both would love another canine/feline brother or sister. They are in good physical condition and up-to-date on vaccinations, heartworm and flea prevention, and so forth. However, the kitty has some behavioral tics that will be challenging.

These two deserve safe and healthy homes. If you have room in your home and in your heart, please reply via email for more details.
