Bass player with backup vocals needed for a new cover band. Keys are a HUGE plus.

The band will be centered around having fun and playing crowd-pleasing rock and pop songs that keep people dancing and partying all night. Song decade doesn't matter as long as the crowd is into it. We'll even do a few country songs if it works.

We have contacts to book shows at good bars, parties and town shows. Eventually, we want to play top rooms, casinos, corporate events and maybe even weddings.

Singer, lead guitar and drummer are set. We are looking for a keyboardist (either dedicated or bass/keys) but can get started with vocals, guitar, drums and bass.

We are all talented, experienced musicians in our 30's who are open-minded, professional and know how to work as a team to make the band successful.

We will play 1-2x per month for starters and then move to a solid 2 with the occasional 3rd show. All of us have families and day jobs. This is a fun thing we do, but take reasonably seriously while having a good time and getting paid for it.

Here's what we need from you:

- 1) Good to great bass skills and gear.
- 2) Backing vocals is required. If you play keys, that's a HUGE plus.
- 3) Dependability to learn/remember songs and be there for practice and shows
- 4) Someone with a fun, confident, professional attitude who works well with the rest of the band on stage an off.
- 5) Willingness to help with other areas of the band outside of shows.

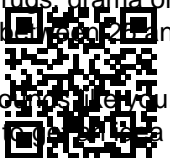

6) No drugs, drama or excessive alcohol.

Age 18-30 and 45

With this song, I'd like you, send me an email to find out more. A sample recording of your bass would be appreciated. I'd also like to have to see a high quality photo of you. If you're serious about this, please let me know. I'll be a of what you need.
