I am a concert pianist and piano teacher, with 10 years of teaching experience up to the university level, and two degrees in piano performance.

I'm currently accepting students of all ages and abilities. I've worked with kids aged 3 to adults age 86, and provide a thorough and flexible approach with all my students. My students have been winners in regional piano competitions, as well as adult learners who just want to play for themselves. I teach out of my home studio (pictured above) in South Pasadena, CA on a Grand Piano. My fee is $45 per hour. Please note, I don't travel to homes to teach.

I look forward to making music with you!!
