The past 3 years I've been making great money by offering my music out to people that are connected with tv and film production companies. Right now they are seeking new music of many different genres. It's so fucking easy I don't understand why everyone else isn't doing this yet!

If you have high quality recordings of your own music, simply send them your songs and they'll license them for you and divide the profit in half. It beats punching in at the office everyday - that's for sure!

To learn how everything works watch the 5 free videos I made:

Hope you dig it!
