Hi!

My mom was recently diagnosed with breast cancer; she lives in the east end of Portland. I'm moving from Colorado to (hopefully, it's all based on housing) Portland for the summer to take care of her with my boyfriend (eek!). I know most people don't want couples, however, we will be working full time and spending the majority of our time at her condo with her and her dog. Renting a room is really only a place to sleep and keep our clothes. We are searching so hard to find a place near her and I hope you will consider us. We are in our mid 20s, responsible, quite, laid back and are adventurous. We are looking for a place mid May/June until the end of August when we plan to move back to Hawaii. We will have one vehicle and no pets. We are in town a couple more days if you would like to meet. My cell is

Sarah
