This post comes with a heavy heart. We have a 1 1/2 year old black lab mix female dog who is so sweet and great with kids. She is a very good dog, but really needs to be with a family who is able to give her the time that she deserves. At this point she is spending 10 hours a day in her crate due to our work schedules, we also live in a condo so she does not have the space she needs to excersise. Along with her would include a crate, leash, and the rest of the food we have left for her.

We would charge a small re-homing fee just to ensure she would go to a good loving home of $150
