Location Vermont

Hi!

We're looking for a Spanish tutor (or tutors) who could work with a student 2-3 hours daily from about May 18 - June 12th.

Our student lives in the Burlington area and is currently going into the second year of college. The student has four to five years of previous experience studying Spanish, and is very interested in honing conversation skills in advance of a service trip to Central America later this summer. The study location could either be the student's home or somewhere else in the Burlington area.

Ideally, we'd like two tutors who can work with the student on alternating days. An advanced level of experience with the language (graduate and/or undergraduate degrees in Spanish, as well as previous experience teaching) is preferred.

Compensation rates are open to negotiation, and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience of the teacher.

Please e-mail us if you think you might be a good!
