I have been working as a full-time nanny for the past 3 and a half years for three great families with amazing kids. I have recently moved from Portland to Vancouver and I am looking for a loving family in the area.

A little bit about myself: I am in my third year of completing my bachelor's degree but I am pursuing my education online so I am available full-time with great flexibility. I am studying to become a psychologist in child development, which is one reason why I love to be around children and help them learn and grow.

A few more details about me:

- 22 years old
- Over 3 years of full-time nannying experience
- Experience with infants, toddlers, young children, older children (Basically all ages 0-14)
- Speaks English, French, Hungarian
- Non-smoker, non-drinker
- Comfortable with pets
- Very flexible schedule

I would be happy to take care of children of any ages--I would also be more than happy to help with their schoolwork or to help them learn a foreign language (which I did with several of the children I watched before). I am also willing to help out with cooking and housekeeping, so the little ones are as comfortable
