I have posted this before and got a few responses but nothing that ended up panning out. I am looking for someone who owns horses and is willing to let me come out and ride them, or go on trail rides with you. I would love to make a friendship out of this, but we can always keep it more professional if you prefer. I would of course help you out around your place, cleaning stalls, grooming horses, whatever you need in exchange for horse time. I am not looking to pay for lessons, or a date, or anything other than just friendly horse play. I haven't ridden in around 10 years so i would need you to show me the ropes again, when it comes to saddling up and such. I am 25, female, tattooed, housewife/mother. I am very open minded and can get along with just about anyone. I hope to hear from you. Thank!
