I am in search of someone who is already mechanically inclined. I dont need someone who is already mechanic, unless you are just looking for extra cash. I just moved here and I am in the process of building a new shop for vehicle repairs. I sell Trucks and some equipment but work ork has picked up and i cant do everything my self anymore. Im working from my garage until the shop is built. What would be perfect is someone like a student who would like to build time for a resume, or wants some hands on experience. Or if someone wants to just get extra cash. I have all the tools needed, but wouldnt hurt to have your own set of basic basic handtools. Have all the jacks, Vehicle lift, engine hoist that would be needed, and you wont be doing anything you dont know how to do on your own. Everyone has to learn somewhere and this could be the place.

This job will fluctuate by how much work is needed on current inventory and is in no means A full time job.

Will be Paid in cash at the end of the day. Can fit your schedule Just let me know .
 Let me know what you think you are worth an hr and we can go from there.
