Found, long haired large adult male cat, has what looks like tabby in his fur. Has grey, white, a little bit of black in places and has some white around his eyes. He's kinda skittish but warmed up to us quick after we fed him a little bit of chicken that we had... He's kinda thin, but has a large head and big ears, so you can tell he's supposed to be plumper. He's very soft, and he looks like he probably belonged to someone at one point. Very friendly, didn't try to scratch us and his purr almost sounds like he's growling, but he's obviously enjoying the petting!

If he sounds like he may be your cat, please email or text me a picture of the cat your missing and I'll get back with you... Just want to make sure this adorable ball of fur doesn't go to the wrong person. Email or text me anytime..!
