i posted for help with a fridge on here last week. i was renting from aarons and they made me pay for a leading fridge out the bottom for over two months. always had some excuse as to why service hadnt called me yet and my kids would walk in a puddle of water every morning.
anyways this lady emailed me on sunday and said she had a fridge for sale. i was very excited. i had my friend go and get it from her.
we get it home and the freezer works great but the main fridge part has very little to no coldness. this morning my 10 yr old came to me and said mama i cant eat. the gallon of milk has curdles in it. the motor is broke on the back of the fridge. that was the last of my money.
can anybody help out a single mom. i have 2 disabled children. i work full time. varily making but im doing it.
i live in independence mo.
