This adorable little mamas girl wasn't ready to leave at 7 weeks like her brothers and sisters. She is a bit of a picky eater. I haven't been able to get her to eat regular cat food yet but so far she's been eating a mix of chicken breast and brown rice with some chicken gravy. She also likes turkey and vitamin treats. If you're up to the task of working with her to get her on a healthy cat food diet, she's already been dewormed and vet approved to have no fleas. She's very playful but then likes to take naps on you. If you can give this little girl a good home, please email me. I'll respond same day.:-)
