Are you going through a difficult time or know someone who is? Do you need structure right now in getting back on track?

My services include helping with the everyday details of life, giving support and restoring order and balance. Be it organizing paperwork, taxes and back taxes, getting on with a project, attending to clutter, making the home livable, going through storage/putting things in storage, unpacking boxes, attending to arrangements that have been neglected, organizing an upcoming event, need of a personal assistant, etc.

I have 14 years experience at an in-patient rehab in New York with a Masters in counseling and a paralegal degree and background.

My rates are low and it's ALWAYS my pleasure in assisting with making changes for the better. Getting on track is ALWAYS the right move. Sometimes we just need help with it. I'm confident we can move mountains together, and move them quickly. All my clients can attest to that!

You may not need these services right now, but you may know someone who does. I'd love to hear from you or them. Last minute calls and weekend hours are welcome.
