I am moving and need to find good homes for two female cats. I would love for them to go together as they are from the same litter. However, if they are split up then it is what it is. they are both three years old, very friendly, and good with children.

Sylvester is a longhaired black and white cat who is very cuddly and vocal. Her previous family had two children both under 5yrs old. Mini is a black cat with white paws and a white splotch on her chest. Mini was with the same family and is well acquainted with small children.

They are both large cats and are extremely cuddly once they are comfortable with their surroundings. I have not once had either of them scratch or bite me, nor have i seen them hurt the children of their previous.
