I Want to Make You a Star (Cleveland)

If you have a cold a$$ body...you can really come up in the game out here. I'm talking about dancing, hosting shows, a stiletto line of heels, a reality show on the web. I'm talking about making a few moves and bending a couple corners. There is a lot of chicks out here that can be doing their thing, but they're messing with the wrong people. All you need is that body and the capacity to trust-- in ME that is.

Now on a personal level, I don't have a type. But this is business. So I would prefer you to not have kids for one. I love kids, but if you gone be on the go, twenty fo, it's not a good look to have your kid always asking where mommy's at. In the end, you would have to make a choice. And the choice should be your kid. Which is good. But bad for business. You need to be available. Second, you can't have a lazy mentality. Because a lot of women with bad bodies have become lazy because she can get the world given to her by dudes that's just focused on her body. Which is cool, but bad for a business minded woman. A Boss chick grinds with her body AND mind. That's why there are very few real ones. The REAL boss chicks come up. Third, I need you to trust in my judgement. That's self explanatory. I only need one chick that's game because I want to put all my focus and attention into HER. So you'll be my world. So hit me up and let's see if we can get a vibe going.
