Compass USA, a cultural homestay program, is searching for good families, with or without children who would be willing to host a Chinese student for two weeks during the summer. The dates are July 13-27th. If you enjoy culture and would like to learn more about Asia without leaving home, this is your chance. The days are mostly structured, so you don't feel like you need to entertain or plan many events for them. If you'd like more information, please contact me and I can send you more and answer questions.
