I have a Blue Heeler named Hope that I am unable to keep. I had gotten her out of a bad situation and wanted to work with her, but due to me living in a small apartment, that dream wont come true. She deserves to be where any cattle dog should be and that is on a place that has land where she can run. She is only around 10 months old and isn't fixed. She has already gone through one cycle of heat. No breeders, she deserves way better than that life, I am just unable to fix her due to low funds. I just treated her on the 12th of May for fleas with Advantage II for dogs between 25-55 lbs, so she will be good for a month. A little about her-

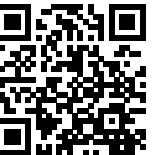

Let's start off with bad: It appears that the previous owner never potty trained her and has only trained her to potty pads, she has separation anxiety, she is slightly overweight, she is very mouthy, and I don't know her shot history or if she has even had any. All of these issues can be fixed with training, proper exercise, and a vet visit.

Now off to the good: She is a super friendly dog, loves everyone she meets, loves kids, loves cats, gets excited when she sees dogs but haven't had her around one, bonds strongly to her people, is HIGHLY intelligent, learns quickly, very much like a Blue Heeler meaning she wants to herd.

Current Training: Sit, down, basic stay, loose leash walking(in progress), the beginnings of a heel, and "out".

She will come with her harness, leash, and a large bag of grain free Merrick dog food that I had just started to use (she loves it and has found it to be helpful with her stomach issues). I am a wonderful person and I am not disappointed in her. I am just taking a break to check some things out. She is going to a good home.

I am asking $130 due to everything she is coming with and what I have put into her so far. I would love for you to come meet her and see what you think. Please feel free to contact me either by email or by phone(text or).
