<https://www.genclassifieds.com/x-440911-z>

Do to unfortunate events I have not been able to do anything listed below, and will not be able to till after wednesday,,, $8500 for now, will go back up to 9500 if after wednesday and I do it myself...
Thanks

Title In hand !!!

2008 CHEVY UPLANDER : E85 Flex Fuel

Mileage: Under 87200 now.. will go higher (LOW MILES !!! (Daily Driver still adding miles)

Engine: V6 E85 Flex Fuel

Trans: Auto

Color: Maroon

Interior: Gray

Notes :

Back hatch bottom plastic cracked up from bicycles.

Back hatch does rattle and squeak while driving, (Wyoming Roads)

Glove compartment door came off. (will try to fix)

Interior has clean but some stains

Front passenger seat when it leans on floor it will creak and will have to break... floor mat will have to be replaced care of that)

CD Player doesnt want to eject

There is a tire pressure sensor that is going bad and when pressure gets high. The pressure should be at 33 psi, when driving wheel gets hot, raises the psi higher, and I think around 38-42 psi it quits reading,,, just has 2 line after it like this : PF --- currently two of the tires have high psi already which needs air let out of them, or the LF does the same thing...

(plains tire said it would cost $150, told them I would live with it.)

The tire sensors are all switched around.

put a couple good tires on the back, and when they put the tires back on, they weren't put in the right places...

So, the computer does not read for the right tires...

we just checked the tire pressure manually...

Tire tread : front driver side brand new, both back ok, front right may need change before too long...

has all seats, one back seat's handle is broke to lay it down, we had to use a pair of pliers to pull on the wire to get it to lay down.

other than basic dings, some scratches, and some paint peeling off of the back passenger side bumper, (backed into a bmw, had a dent in bumper, but it popped out),, (should have seen bmw, worse damage,,, so, strong vehicle to feel safe in)

I will not post pictures of everthing, even when I take pictures of the interior later...

I feel its better to just come look at it for yourself once I get it cleaned up..

Other than that, nothing wrong with it.

Id drive it to Ohio tomorrow without worries.

I was already offered $9500 for it, and he had to pay off medical bills first...

Ive seen 2007's going for $10,500, and they had 10,000 more miles...

(and thats without me trying to clean it out or fix the glovebox, which I will be working on Monday, May 27th)

This is my daily driver, so mileage will go up past 87200 if not sold soon.

I would trade for the 4cyl jeep wrangler and $6500 Cash faster than I would full price (so I have another vehicle to drive for now.)

Will not trade for any other vehicles or Items (4cyl jeep wrangler ONLY, not v6, V8,, no Cj's sorry... firm on this too)... has to have back seat, full top with doors, (doesnt matter if hard top or soft top), Tow package, and prefer somewhat lower mileage than what ive seen,,, Im old school on low mileage, if you have switched out the engine, I need to see proof,,, no proof or receipt of work being done.

Extremely dependable.

Used to drive back and forth for vacation in Ohio, and would take it again tomorrow if we were goin..
Payed off, and just got title in mail....
I have washed it, but will have to wash it again,
Have not cleaned the interior yet...
Will post pics of interior after I get the interior cleaned, (May take me AWHILE)
