I need to find a good home for my Pomeranian. Her name is Sophie, she is 7 years old. She is spayed. She is up to date on her rabies and has just been to see her vet and got a clean bill of health. I just had her groomed and she currently looks like a lion. I do that for the summer so it is cooler for her. The special thing about Sophie is that she is so loving. She is great with children, other pets and just loves to get attention. I am needing to find her a new home. My life situation has changed and I can no longer give her the attention she deserves. I need to find a home for her that she will get plenty of attention, walks, and love. She is housebroken and will use pee pads when she needs to be left alone. It is breaking my heart to have to find a new home for her since I have had her since a puppy, however I need to do the best for her. There is a $200 re-homing.
