Today, i have to get rid of my best friend, asap, as much as its destroying my and I've put it off over and over, i need to find the right fit for my baby. Bug AKA Mamas. the vet said she is a Saffordshire Terrier mix, shes amazing with people and kids however, doesn't play nicely with male dogs. Shes an amazing protector, with the kindest heart. VERY well trained and listens very well, she has literally been going everywhere with me in the car her whole time with me and loves it. She is house trained and cleans up any food mess she can find lol, great if you have toddlers. My kids are 2,4, and 5 and they all adore her. My family has became homeless and we've been living out of a car with her hoping something falls together for our whole family, but it seems like it will never happen. Shes almost 3, and I rescued her off craigslist 2 years ago. This is truly breaking my heart.
