Documentary film seeking intern for International Marketing research.

- Multiple award winning documentary currently distributed in North America.
- Recently released in Europe and Worldwide
- Concerns climbing in the high mountains of Asia, comparing a historical expedition with a modern one

We can offer experience researching markets and helping to design focused advertising strategies in order to boost press, audience and viewership. You would be working with a team of 6 people, one contact in Anchorage with the rest based out of Seattle. So you need to be familiar (or become familiar) with conducting web meetings.

If you can obtain school credit for this, we can work with you to make that happen.

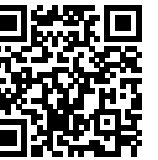

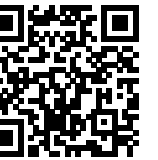

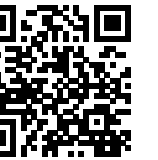

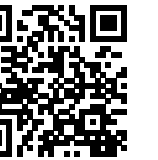

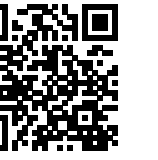

If you have other skills such as web design, crunching data from social media sites, graphic design or sales experience etc., please don't fail to mention this.

To Apply:

Send a 2 page PDF with your CV as the first page and a statement of interest as your second page. Title it, "LastName_LOI.PDF".

You may include up to two other documents with anything else you think is pertinent. No need to write a voluminous email.

Please follow these instructions carefully.
