Hi my name is maryanne an I am moving to the DC area in late July. I am looking for a space for myself an two cats, one of which will think you are his new best friend an the other will hide under my bed 98% of the time. I am looking to spend around 1100 a month plus utilities but wishing they are included. I currently go to school an bartend so plan on doing that when I get to DC. Yes I have late hours but respect the home turf for what it is, a home. About myself I am a creative 28 year old libra who enjoys Netflix an wine, preferably together. I am moving from sarasota FL but was raised in south jersey, yes an interesting combo, please do not judge me on what you have seen on tv. Looking blindly for a space to start an amazing new experience please contact me if you think you have the.
