Hi Folks!

I have a Konica Minolta Bizhub C350. The fuser (fixer) unit is giving me some hell...it seems to get to hot and the motor clicks. I have another fuser from a C351 and might be able to combine the two to make one good one. I dont have the patience to deal with it right now. I either need a new fuser (new or used) or I need someone to fix this one.

I really dont have a huge press for time, however, I would like this done as swiftly as possible.

If you have access to a reasonably priced new or used fuser (or a printer with the fuser in it) or you have the ability of helping me repair this one, please send me an email or text. No phone calls if we can avoid it for now...I have pretty busy days.

I can either bring you to my place or bring you the fusers...whichever works for you.

Thanks for your time!
