Ibanez AF105F-NT + Hardshell Tolex case for sale. This specific guitar is from 2005 or 2006, but I don't remember exactly. Sounds great, plays great, and looks great, so basically, it's exactly what you're looking for, right? It's the ideal intermediate jazz guitar: it's not a two-hundred dollar piece of crap, and it's not a two-thousand dollar piece of furniture. The floating pickup is ideal for translating the natural sound of the wood to amplification. I have flatwounds on it right now, but if you put regular roundwounds on it, you can get some good tones for other genres, too.

Also includes gold-plated tune-o-matic style bridge (not pictured) if you want to switch out the wood one.

I am selling it because I have faced the reality that I am just not really playing jazz at this time in my life, and I also am just not that into playing hollow-bodied guitars in loud rock settings. So it has been sitting in the closet for a couple of years. I am hoping to find it the better home it deserves where it will get some good use and a little TLC. Feel free to email me with any!
