We have a precious little Shiba Inu with an undiagnosed case of wobblers. He gets around great, has a most pleasant personality but has a bit of a shake and his hindquarters don't always move correctly when he's excited. When he's calm, he gets around surprisingly well. Since he is so young he can get excited easily and loves to play.

He is friendly to other dogs and would very likely get along great with cats too. He is super sweet and only 14 weeks old. He spent extra time with his mother. Both are beautiful and available. We will require a home visit to feel confident he goes to a loving individual or family.

Rehoming for him is $50 and with his mother $300.

Please don't ask how we determined he has Wobblers... we have no vet or medical training so we can't possibly know, but as curious people wanting to place him we assume that it could be.

If you are a shiba rescue and would like him at no charge, we'll be happy to let you find him a great home for us.

Best wishes to all pet lovers out.
