I will be hiring a part time worker the first week of may. It will start out part time but will have potential for full time. We mostly do residential moving of house's and apartments. To be considered you must have all of these qualifications: Must be able to pass drug and background test, a valid drivers license and own transportation, a cell phone and a good attitude. Not needed but a plus is experience driving a box truck. experience moving, military background. We start employees out at $10-$11hr plus tips which range from $0 a day to as good as several hundred a day. If you have experience and are a good worker you will get raises quickly. Even if you have part time availability you will still be considered. Email me your name number and any information that would be helpful in making a hiring decision, also if you are prior service include that. Dont send a resume because I wont download it. This is a very physically demanding job so if you dont like physical labor jobs this is not a good job for you.!
