Disability Services ~ Eligibility & Benefits

Often times people are working through debilitating illnesses and physical impairments. The reasons are many for continuing to work, money should not be one of the reasons though. SSDI and other disability related benefits are available to those who qualify. Finding those benefits can be tasking and time consuming. There is help available to those in need.

Some of the benefits which are available to those who qualify:

Federal AND state benefits

Direct financial aid

Home modification, low interest loans, upgrades, etc.

Prescription medicine benefits

Free or low cost health care

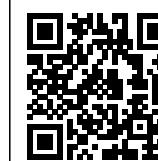

Children's disability benefits

Foundations and grant money

There are also advocacy groups willing to help the disabled for free.

Don't hesitate! You deserve to receive the benefits you have worked so hard for.

Start by finding the answers to the most frequently asked questions concerning eligibility, credited work history, and more. It's that easy, then go from there.
