I have two ferrets Fred and Barney looking for a new home. These boys are loved very much and I'm looking for a home that will stay in contact. I'm rehoming them due to life changes that find me unable to give them the attention they deserve. Being a college student and new step mom they are spending more time in the cage than they deserve. They aren't completely litter box trained. I can give you the formation they still have 7 months of a guarantee on marshell ferret. They come with a one level ferret nation cage and litter box and hammocks. Also with two food dish food storage container and several duk soups. I'll be purchasing a new bag of large food this or next. They have several floor toys as well that I'll include. Again I'd prefer the person adopting them to stay in contact and if the home doesn't work out I would prefer adopt them back. Contact with any questions you have. Their adoption fee is $300 and this includes everything. Willing to deliver because of drive. I'd like them to find the best possible.
