Up for sale is a 2006 Honda CBR 1000RR. Cosmetically the custom paint, including candy painted marble frame, shows like the show quality winner that it is. Functionally the 375 HP turbo engine built to run under 8s ($29K invested to engine and turbo by themselves) runs out excellent and 5 speed trans shifts as it should. The bike has 10K miles and only 1K miles since build. The magnitude of this build can't possibly be explained in an ad or even in a day- it is 100% custom to the core. It is as fast as it looks and is not for the light hearted. If you have any questions or would like to see the item in person please call

This is a no excuses unit and needs no further explanation once you have seen it in person- being offered at less than quadruple what it cost to build, find another.
