To whomever it may concern whoever is posting ignorant regards about the butlers, I placed a scarlet macaw and a greater sulfur crested cockatoo with them 5 months ago and they still have them I visit them weekly they always have clean cages fresh food fruits and vegetables and always seem to have new toys in there cage. They also take them outside daily I get photos everyday and they have been seen by a vet as they promised they would. As far as I am concerned they are amazing pet owners there vet and pet Co both gave me amazing reference when I called them. I gave them a good asset when I gave them my birds and cages and they have never once attempted to "sell" them as you are claiming. Also I visit there home and they do own 12 acres of beautiful property.
