I've been making websites since I was a young kid, finding it to be a fun way to bring my artistic skills into an interactive platform. I was a top-rated Apple Creative software tutor, have a Bachelor's in Media Art and a Master's in Global Marketing & Advertising.
I have a passion for working with entrepreneurs, artists and musicians, as I too am all three.

What I bring to the table:
The biggest issue that most people have with their websites is that their website designer makes it impossible for them to access the site and edit it themselves. I try a different approach by selecting a website building platform that is easy to teach, designing it myself, and showing the client how to make easy changes themselves for the future. I then transfer the site in its entirety to your own possession to either alter as suggested, or if you ever need help, I am available for $25 per half hour of assistance. Most issues are quick fixes. Additionally, I use my design and marketing experience to bring you a site that not only looks clean and professional, but fulfills a goal in your business, such as increasing your conversions of visitors to the site into satisfied customers of your enterprise.

My turnaround time for a site like this is about 3-4 weeks and costs $1500.
Half is paid upfront and half is due upon completion.
This amount includes up to one hour of tutoring in how to edit parts of your site yourself, but does Not include the one year of hosting and a domain name (or we can use your own domain name) which vary from $60+ annually based on your needs and wants. Additional options of app's which may enhance the interactivity of your site but cost a nominal fee to use and will also be put on your own card. Any activity involving myself and additional app's comes at the additional fee of $25 per half hour- ie, setting up questionnaires, a shop, or surveys. Luckily, I work very quickly.

To execute your site most quickly and efficiently, I typically like to have client [illegible] have high-res .ai or .eps logo's and photos they want on the site ready. If necessary, I can find pages and images by the hour, and 1-3 goals you want to accomplish with the new site design. (ie. 1. Improve brand awareness 2. Have an easy-to-navigate menu consolidating social media efforts 3. Attract customers to gallery/events)

I look forward to helping you achieve your!
